In the UK, these products are not licensed medicinal products, and they are not intended for pre surgical skin antiseptics. These products are PT1 Skin Biocide products, intended for skin disinfection only.

Ideal to use for:

- + Requiring an antiseptic wash prior to admission
- + In intensive care or high-dependency units
- + Immobile following surgery, stroke rehabilitation or receiving palliative care
- + Elderly with difficulty showering and bathing

+ Enhanced Infection Prevention

Each pack contains 8 large antiseptic washcloths, one to be used per anatomical region to ensure effective skin cleansing and disinfection and minimal risk of cross contamination.

+ Added Skin Protection

Contains moisturisers to help maintain healthy skin.

+ Excellent Patient Experience

Premium soft towel. Option to warm each pack, increasing patient comfort.

+ Suitable for Sensitive Skin

Latex, lanolin, alcohol and paraben free, suitable for use on fragile and sensitive skin.

+ Time and Cost Saving

Complete waterless solution, replacing the need for reusable wash basins and accessories, proven to be sources of HCAI transmission.

+ Made in the UK

Guaranteed supply and supporting carbon net-zero initiatives.

The active ingredient chlorhexidine gluconate (CHG) is globally recognised as the gold standard in providing immediate protection with residual effect of up to 6 hours.

Jones CG. Chlorhexidine: is it still the gold standard? Periodontol 2000. 1997 Oct;15:55-62. doi: 10.1111/j.1600-0757.1997.tb00105.x.PMID: 9643233.

Abundant evidence demonstrates that daily CHG baths in the ICU prevents central line associated BSI (CLA- BSI), BSI, CA-UTI, ventilator associated pneumonia (VAP) and SSI.

Wang EW, Layon AJ. Chlorhexidine gluconate use to prevent hospital acquired infections- a useful tool, not a panacea. Ann Transl Med. 2017;5(1):14. doi:10.21037/atm.2017.01.01
